BOTH TEAMS IN ACTION AT Y. M. C. A.

Large Crowd at Catholic University Contest—Game Was Close—
"Shorty" Almon Starred

Both the girls' and men's basketball teams will be in action at Y. M. C. A. Gym tomorrow night.

The men, after defeating Catholic University, are ready for the season's biggest game with Georgetown.

The girls will play an introductory game with the Holton Arms School for Girls.

Announcement of this added attraction was made late yesterday (Thursday) morning.

The girls will play at 8 o'clock sharp and the big game will start at 8:45 o'clock.

This will be the first big public game for the girls and the first at the Y. M. C. A.

Special arrangements have been made to seat the large crowd. Manager George A. Daidy has announced, and the rosters, bleachers will be erected again. In addition to the local following, the game will be witnessed by players, coaches and officials from all parts of the South Atlantic division, who will attend the (Continued on page 3)

B. S. IN CHEMISTRY WILL BE ENGINEERING COURSE

Only One Language Required For Engineers Hereafter—Chemical Engineering Course

The B. S. in Chem. course will be transferred from Columbian College to the College of Engineering beginning next September, Dean Howard L. Hodgkins has announced. With the transfer the units necessary for graduation in the course will be raised from 62 to 70, the added hours being elective.

This course and the new chemical engineering course to be instituted next year will be added to the present four courses in civil, electrical and mechanical engineering and architecture that are offered by the College of Engineering.

One Language Hereafter
The engineering student beginning next year will have to have only two college years of one modern language in order to graduate. At present two years of both French and German is required. The entrance requirement next year will be satisfied by two high school years of a language, which must be taken for a year in college. If a different language is taken in college, it must be taken for two years. None of these changes effect students now registered for courses.

Chemical Engineering Course
The new seventy-unit course leading to the degree of bachelor of science in chemical engineering will consist of the following subjects, Dean Hodgkins has announced:

Freshman year—Chemistry, 1, 2, five hours; English, 1 or 2, three hours; Mathematics, 9 or 12, three hours; French or German, three hours; Architecture, 2 (one-half of course), one hour; Mechanical Drawing, (part of Graphics 1 and 2), one hour; total, seventeen hours.

Sophomore year—Chemistry, 3, 20, five hours; Mathematics, 20 or 21, three hours; Physics, 1, 2, five hours; Mechanical Engineering, 1, four hours; Mineralogy, two hours; total, nineteen hours.

Junior year—Chemistry, 21 (4) 23, 6, seven hours; Economics, 33, two hours; Applied Mathematics, 20, 22, four hours; Mechanical Engineering, 20, 21, three hours; Electrical Engineering, two hours; total, eighteen hours.

Senior year—Chemistry, 24, 25, 26, eight hours; Industrial Chemistry, three hours; Mechanical Engineering, 10, two hours; electives (from chemistry, electrical or mechanical engineering), three hours; total, sixteen hours.

One Man May Coach and Manage Athletics

A proposition to have one man take charge of athletics at the University during the next year is being considered by Dean Fraser, Graduate Manager Howard W. Hodgkins, and the Council.

A man prominent at a near-by institution is being considered. If he is appointed he will coach football, track and basketball and any other sports next year as well as do the executive work now performed by Manager Hodgkins.

The appointment of such a manager-coach of all sports will probably be made early in February, effective next September.

WORKING ON PLAY

Performance At C. H. S. On Evening of Feb. 22

The G. W. U. Players have been assured by Superintendent of Schools Ernest L. Thurston that they will be able to use the auditorium of the new Central High School for the production of "A Night Off" on the evening of February 22, Washington's Birthday.

Rehearsals have begun in earnest under Director Henry J. Breslau and President S. S. Gluck, and Business Manager Ernest M. Elkin is hard at work arranging for the production.

Staging the production on the large Central High School stage is one of the problems that is confronting the organization. Scenery from the Belasco will be used, President Gluck has said.

Second Largest In World
The Central High School stage, according to school authorities, has the second largest proscenium arch in the world. Drury Lane, London, is the only other of its kind, it is said.

Committees of girls are selecting a large list of patrons and and patronesses, many of whom have already consented to act.

Gilligan Program Editor
The souvenir program will be edited by William Gilligan, Manager Elkin has announced.

Manager Elkin is in need of help in the business management of the production, and would be glad to receive any suggestions, he has said.

The sale of tickets, thru local high school organizations as well as those of the University, is being planned.

Altho they are engaged in producing "A Night Off", the Players are planning to enlarge the organization to include all interested in the drama, and to hold regular meetings at which dramatic topics may be discussed.

3 Out Of 5 Survive Pi Phi Engagement Party

Pi Beta Phi held an "engagement party" last Friday night. Five girls went thru with the solemn secret sorority rites that proclaim to her sisters that she is pledged to some young man for life.

Twenty-five pounds of the best chocolate candy arrived at the sorority room, as the offering and the price that five young men paid to the sorority for daring to plan to "have and to hold" five sisters.

The party was most enjoyable. Everything went all right until the names of the happy ones were announced for publication. Then the names of only three couples were announced. That other two girls "weren't quite sure" or were "just kidding" were several explanations.

The "sure" couples are Miss Elizabeth Wilbur, daughter of Dean Wilbur, and Cadet Lyman Parks, U. S. A.; Miss Elsie Nichols and James Burch; Miss Lela Howard and Robert Wood, a member of Zeta Nu from Oklahoma.

DISCUSS BASKETBALL RULES

Just before the Georgetown game tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. building, a meeting for the interpretation of basketball rules will be held under the auspices of a joint committee on rules, representing the A. A. U., Y. M. C. A., and the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Players, coaches, and officials will be present. Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft, of Princeton will preside.

NAVY TO BE PLAYED BY G. W. U. ELEVEN

Ten Games On Next Fall's Football Program

George Washington University will meet the Navy in football next fall, is an announcement made by Graduate Manager Howard Hodgkins. The game which will be played at Annapolis on October 27, will give G. W. students a chance to see their team in action against one of the most famous football machines in the country.

The complete schedule, as arranged by Manager Hodgkins, calls for ten games, several of them with the strongest teams in the South Atlantic section. Five games will be played in this city. Three others are within such easy reach of Washington, that the football enthusiasts will be able to follow the team thru practically the entire season.

The completed schedule is:

Sept. 29.—Gettysburg at Gettysburg.
Oct. 6.—West Va. at Morgantown.
Oct. 13.—John Hopkins at Baltimore.
Oct. 20.—Eastern College at home.
Oct. 27.—Navy at Annapolis.
Nov. 3.—Catholic U. at Brookland.
Nov. 10.—Ursinus at home.
Nov. 17.—Western Md. at Westminster.
Nov. 24.—Gallaudet at Kendall Green.
Nov. 29.—Georgetown at George.

ALL OF UNIVERSITY AT MIDYEAR SERMON IS PLAN

Want Students, Faculty and Officials at February 18 Function—Marshals to Lead.

Plans are under way to have the whole University, from Board of Trustees to freshmen, turn out for the midyear sermon to be held on Sunday, February 18, at 4 o'clock in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Dean William Allen Wilbur of Columbia College who is in charge of graduates and undergraduates at the service, desires to have every class of arrangements for the procession of each college attend, headed by its president. The senior marshals now being elected will march at the head of the procession along side of the President.

Classes Elect Aids
"Aids, one or two from each class, will help form the procession and lines. Class presidents should call a meeting of their classes and have these aids elected," said Dean Wilbur. "They should see me after election."

Rev. Clarence Barbour, president of the Northern Baptist Convention, and a well-known speaker to college men will deliver the sermon.

Not for at least five years has an attempt such as this been made to bring all students, faculty and officials of the University together.

"ORIGIN OF LIFE" AS SUBJECT

Negotiations are under way with Dr. F. Alexander McDermott of Meller Institute, Pittsburg, to give a talk on "Chemical Theories on the Origin of Life," at the next meeting of the Chemical Society to be held February 14.

Study on this subject is still in its infancy and Dr. McDermott promises an interesting talk.

COLUMBIAN BANQUET SOON

The Columbian Debating Society will hold its annual banquet in the near future. H. W. Cornell is chairman of the entertainment committee.

ELECTION FOR COUNCIL AND MARSHALS NOW ON

All Seniors, Medical And Engineering Tax Signers, Can Vote

Student election is being given a trial by the Council. By using the official ballot on page 4 of this issue of the Hatchet, tax signers of the Medical School and the College of Engineering will elect councilmen to fill vacancies from those colleges.

Seniors of all departments by using the same ballot or a similar written ballot will indicate their choice for senior marshals.

Election System On Trial.

This is a test election. The Faculty Committee has not yet sanctioned the election of councilmen by vote of the tax signer electorate, but the Council, with Dean E. Fraser's sanction, is holding this election as a test of the system before it is incorporated in the resolutions governing the Council.

Dean Fraser, chairman of the Faculty Committee on Student Activities, in whom the appointive power of councilmen now lies, has announced that he will appoint the successful candidates of this election.

Three senior marshals are to be chosen, by vote of all seniors. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes will be senior marshal, while the next two highest will be his assistants. They will lead the procession of graduates at both the winter and spring sermons and graduations. Election to these offices is considered one of the highest student honors obtainable.

Committee in Charge.
The election committee of the Council composed Elmer Kayser, chairman, Miss Martha McNeil and William S. Hance is in charge of the elections.

The ballot on page 4 of this issue, perforated so that it can be torn out of the paper easily, gives the rules governing the election. Voters should follow these carefully.

The polls will be open for five days, beginning today and lasting until next Tuesday at 8 p. m.

To guard against any possible election frauds, each voter must sign his ballot. The Hatchet, for mailing purposes has a complete list of all tax signers, and students voting will be checked by means of it.

Votes may be cast by placing them in the Hatchet box, third floor, A. & S. Building, the Law School Hatchet box, at Mr. Vane's office in the Medical School, by handing them to councilmen or mailing to the Hatchet.

Number of Voters.
In the College of Engineering there are 93 signers eligible to vote, and in the Medical School 103 students are tax signers.

There are 265 seniors, both those who will graduate in June and in February, who are eligible to vote. The number in each college is: Engineering, 8; Teachers, 18; Law, 94; Medical, 37; Dental, 37; Veterinary, 7; Pharmacy, 14; Columbian College, 50.

Cherry Tree Announces

Probable Costs of Book

C. R. Draper, business manager of the Cherry Tree, has submitted to Dean E. Fraser, chairman of the Faculty Committee, estimates of the cost of the Cherry Tree this year, showing expenses and probable income.

The figures show why the Cherry Tree is charging what it is for space and pictures," Dean Fraser said. "Individual sittings for pictures will be ten cents still instead of twenty-five cents as announced by the Cherry Tree, however."

The estimates based on prices actually quoted are: Printing, $1,362.50; engraving, $453.50; incidentals, $100, total, $1,916.00. The amount from the student tax is estimated at 500 times $1.52, or $1,307.20, leaving $608.80 which must be made up by charges to organizations, students, pictures, and advertising. The price paid under the tax this year is $1.52, against $2 to $2.50 last year. Individual photographs are 10 cents against 35 cents last year, and 75 cents to senior against $1.25 last year. These statements are contained in the Cherry Tree estimates.

SEE CENTRAL'S HEATING SYSTEM

Engineers Visit and Inspect New High School Plant

The Engineering Society met Wednesday night at the new Central High School where Thomas F. A. McGuire lectured on the new heating and ventilating system installed there. His talk was followed by a trip thru the building and the complex heating system was explained in detail. Altho notice of the lecture was not given until Monday afternoon, a good sized crowd was present.

Election Test

The first referendum election under the Student Council is being begun today. It is the test of popular elective control of student activities at George Washington University.

If the vote is "brought out" at this time of year when students are thinking about midyear examinations, if the elective plan is proved in this manner to be workable, there is little doubt that the Faculty Committee will adopt resolutions of the Council making student elections the regular manner of selecting Council members. The faculty is strongly in favor of as much student control of activities, with proper supervision, as is possible.

Medical and Engineering tax signers are voting for councilmen. The students of these two typical departments by voting or not voting will decide on the merits of the election plan.

Seniors by casting a vote for marshals will aid in the decision for student democracy.

In voting students should put aside all fraternal or class affiliations and vote for the best candidates.

If Council supervised elections are successful, as they should be, it will be a step toward even broader student control.

Now student thought and opinion on any student matter is solicited by the Council at all times. The Council, by holding this first election, has shown itself eager to feel the pulse of the student body.

Law Fund

There can hardly be a better way of showing love for one's University or college than seeing that it has an adequate place in which to carry on its work. The plea of the Law School for money for a new building should be answered willingly by both students and alumni. Every student now in the Law School should contribute the largest amount possible to provide a permanent home for the Law School.

Small contributions are just as welcome as the larger sums. If every student gave only a small amount, the total will be considerable. Then if the students show by their contributions that they really want a new building, it is logical to suppose that more business men and alumni will be persuaded to help the cause.

Cheer up, girls.

Athletics are going swimmingly with a water team proposed.

Will the winter convocation sermon procession resemble George Washington's march to Valley Forge?

George Washington University students are given an opportunity that other District residents do not have.
It is to exercise the right of franchise.

History Exam

By WILLIAM GILLIGAN

"Has each of you a yellow book?
Ah, yes, that is very good.
Now, Mr. Jones, this vacant chair—I'd thank you if you would.
And Mr. Reynolds, if you please,
The windows to the rear,
For Mr. Lindow seems to think It's getting hot in here—
I hope you will remember when You get a congregation
That fresh air is to ministers
A prime consideration.
Referring to the questions, now,
Has each one got a set?
Oh, Mr. Kayser, here's a man Who hasn't got his yet."

And then for two long creeping hours
I tried with might and main
To follow some slim thread of thought Within my tangled brain.
To what does England owe her rise?
Or what exhausted Spain?
Or who united Italy,
And what did Russia gain?
The bell reproached me—time was up:
My heart within me sank,
For still my little yellow book
Was hardly more than blank.
The pledge, I hardly needed it,
And yet, and yet, I thought,
"Would fill up space where space
was blank,
And that's a mighty lot."

At last I did know something,
And without the slightest doubt
I wrote in great, bold letters,
So you'd almost hear them shout,
"I haven't given any help,
And not received a bit,
But no one knows, except myself,
How bad I needed it."

Percy Charges A "Leak"

Dear Joe:

There has been a leak in the mails from your house to the Hatchet editorial rooms. My correspondence has been opened and published in that newspaper and every Co-ed says she knows who I am. They got antagonistic towards me for telling you about their antics. They are all right now, tho, for I explained that as I did not pay my fare, the motorman hit my head against his fist so I was seeing double. Maybe the Belle wasn't on the radiator at all, perhaps she was on the floor; and maybe her competitor wasn't skinning the cat on the electric cord but merely doing a fancy dance with one of the men.
Anyway, Joe, the impression I want to give you is not that we do not admire the girls, but rather we adore them. I make this explanation for the man who carried the dope to Wall Street also had my letter to you.
Altho they know me by Percy, I still believe my last name is not known.
There is no use in my mailing this to you Joe, you might as well read it in the Hatchet. I can't keep my letters from them, i. e. those firey editors. One, you know Joe, is more firey than the other, because I came near forgetting that he reads this stuff too so I can't tell you. I don't believe I told you about a leak at home. Well, yesterday I couldn't stop whistling and when I got home I told the cook that I was as happy as a lark. "I see so sorry, Missa Percy," she said, "I gave you—all bird seed dis yeah mornin' instead of breakfast food." But Joe I'm still happy for I am going out for a wild night with one of our Co-eds tonight. I'll tell you all about it next week. PERCY.

Evening Stairs

There's an awful lot of fussing in the air;
Co-education crops out everywhere;
On my way to evening classes
I find the lads and lasses
So thick the students can't get up the stair.

Those Flowers

"I thank you for the flowers," she sweetly said,
And smiled, and shyly drooped a pretty head.
"I am sorry for the words I spoke last night,
Your sending flowers proves that
YOU were right.
Forgive me!"
He forgave—
But as they walked and talked 'neath
shady bowers,
He wondered who in—had sent those flowers.

Shun This

Procrastination,

Diplomacy

"Call when you've nothing else to do.
She said to him so sweetly,
And not till then did he realize,
She'd turned him down completely."

Sitter-By in the Hatchet Office to neophyte reporter at the typewriter.
"You're improving on that machine." N. R.—"I thought it had all the latest improvements." Sitter-By—"Well, all it lacked was that personal touch."

LIBRARY OPEN NIGHTS

Night Students Can Now "Bone" until 10:30.

What ho! Ye night students! There is no excuse for not having that reference now. You may sit in the A. & S. library and "bone" to your heart's content until 10:30 o'clock, except Saturday. The library officials seem to be in league with the faculty in their efforts to make study unavoidable, and they have arranged to keep the library open late.

This concession came as a result of a petition circulated and signed by 250 night students.

Mrs. Victoria B. Turner, assistant librarian says: "We want the night students to feel that they are welcome in the library and to use it freely.
That is what we are keeping it open for."

The only reason that the library has not been open at night before is the lack of students who would use it.
"When we first moved on G street,
the library was open nights," said Dean Hodgkins, "but when we found that only about five students a week used the privileges, it was closed. If the same thing happens again, we will have to close it again."

FRATERNITY HAS GIRL INDEX

Co-Eds Listed and Selection of Dance
Partners Made Easy Discovered—Another advantage of fraternity life.

In one of the fraternity houses there is an elaborate index of all the girls that are known to be willing and available for fraternity teas, dances, and other social blow-outs.

No, no Greek names shall be mentioned, but here is how the co-operative index is run:

Under the headings, Name, age, how she dances, disposition, color of hair, eyes, favorite subject, address, telephone number, the girl is fairly well catalogued, members adding information from time to time. And then there is a "Remarks" column that is usually crowded.

"It is mighty convenient," declared a member, as he ran thru the list of thirty or more prominent co-eds.
"Of course, the boys often claim options on certain chickens, but there are usually enough for all."

DR. PIERCE PUBLISHES THESIS

"The Creed of Epictetus" Appears in Book Form.

Rev. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, of All Souls Unitarian Church of this city, who last year received the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University, has published "The Creed of Epictetus" from the Beacon Press.

In the preface he says: "This volume is the outcome of a thesis presented to the Faculty of Graduate Studies of the George Washington University in part satisfaction of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. The writer has been lead to think that others might be interested in the results of a study which for many years has been an unfailing source of help and inspiration."

There is an introductory study on
"The Faith of a Stoic."

MRS. SWETT DIRECTS SINGING

Mrs. O. D. Swett, wife of Prof.
Swett, is interested in the Girls' Glee Club and has offered her service in training the club. She met the girls last Friday and had them sing for her.

"There is fine material in the club and we will do big things," was her comment.

WANT CHERRY TREE JOB?

Those men who are looking forward to managing the Cherry Tree next year must see the Cherry Tree editor or business manager now, as the recommendations that the present staff will make, will be decided by those who have done the most work this year. L. E. Burton and C. R. Draper, editor and business manager have announced.

PLAN SWIMMING TEAM TO REPRESENT UNIVERSITY

Council Takes Up Matter After Hatchet's Proposal—Eugene Underwood Cheer Leader.

The organization of a swimming team was proposed by the Hatchet at the last meeting of the Student Council, last Tuesday night, in the Law School.

William S. Hance, editor, suggested that as long as there were a number of excellent swimmers among the students there is no reason why they should not be gotten together to represent the University in that line of sport. The swimming squad will be self-supporting until it proved its value, it was explained. Hance was put in charge of the formation of the squad and instructed to bring before the Council at its next meeting, after the examinations, data concerning the expense of Y. M. C. A. memberships and a list of the men interested.

A coach is waiting to take charge as soon as the project is launched, it was stated.

The Hatchet will receive names of all men who are interested in the formation of such a team.

The publications committee was instructed to review different college handbooks or "bibles" so that the Council might publish such a book next fall in place of the activities booklet gotten out last year.

As Charles Lynch has left the University, Eugene Underwood was appointed by the Council to fill the vacancy of official cheer leader.

G. W. SOLDIERS PASS EXAMS.

Want More Enlistments—Will Take Officers' Exams

Captain A. C. Thompson, instructor of the University Coast Artillery Company has announced the results of the recent examination for advanced work.

He praised the men for the showing they made and said that the War Department officers who marked the papers, declared them excellent.

The men and the examinations they passed were: Capt. Walter W. Burns and Lieut. Howard W. Hodgkins, emplacement, range, and battery commander; Private E. V. Griggs, electrician sergeant, first class; Sergeants N. B. Crain, J. F. Pierce, and A. C. Brown, Corporals C. A. K. Rowley and D. L. Dutton and Private H. N. Marsh, basic course for officers.

There will be no drill on February 24, as a drill was held last Sunday morning after the Cherry Tree picture of the company had been taken. On the next Wednesday, every man must be present for the annual inspection.

It is expected that at least thirty men will take exams, for the Officers Reserve Corps in May and so obtain commissions as second lieutenants. The opportunity to learn the information necessary to pass exams, for commissioned positions in the Reserve Corps is only one of the many features of the company's work.

The George Washington Coast Artillery Company is not under minimum strength of 65 men as Lieut. Howard W. Hodgkins was quoted last issue as saying, but the number of George Washington University men in the company is below that number.

The company lost a number of University men this fall and got few student enlistments. Men who are not students have been enlisted for the second company which it is hoped can be formed. The officers ask for more student recruits.

WANT REPRESENTATIVE GIRL

Sphinx Honor Society Doesn't Know Who to Elect
Wanted—A girl representatively active in school interests.

The Sphinx Honor Society has as yet been unable to find a girl who, in the opinion of its members, is active in enough school interests to become a member of that society. One member says: "Altho there are several girls who take a large part in the interests of the school, each of these confines her work to one activity. Either she is active in the Women's University Club or in basketball or tennis but in that one interest alone. Although such a girl may play a leading part in her special line of activity, she cannot be called representatively active."

The society, in co-operation with alumni, is arranging a series of evening lectures to be given by prominent men and women soon.

MRS. FOSS TO MARRY

Mrs. Elydia Foss, candidate for a master of science degree in the School of Graduate Studies, will marry Bertram Francis Shipman next Tuesday. It has been announced.

Mrs. Foss is a graduate of Boston University. She will return to the University to resume her studies in the early part of February.

Arrangements For G. W. Track Meet Under Way

Arrangements for the University Track Meet on Friday, March 2, at Convention Hall are progressing and altho the large northern institutions cannot be represented because of the northern intercollegiate, strong competition is assured.

Virginia is going to send a large squad to try for point honors. A relay between Lehigh and Lafayette is being arranged, and the natural rivalry of these institutions will furnish an attractive event. Other closely matched relays are being negotiated for with a view to a successful meet from the spectator's point of view.

The meet program will list the following South Atlantic Intercollegiate championship events: 440 yd. dash, two mile run, two mile relay, pole vault.

rules meeting earlier in the evening. The Washington Post said last Sunday regarding the game: "There will be played the first game of the series that, by virtue of the athletic rivalry that has long existed between the contesting institutions has come to be regarded as the most interesting of the local season."

CLEAN UP C. U., 26 TO 21

Sizzling Game Seen By Largest Crowd Yet.

In a game, which sizzled with excitement, the George Washington University basketball team defeated Catholic University by the score of 26 to 21 last Saturday night at the "Y." The audience was the largest gathering at any of the local collegiate basketball games this season, and the special bleachers for the G. W. U. rooters were packed to capacity. The crowd flocked in whispering: "Something stirring tonight" and filed out realizing that they had been treated to an adult's dose of stirring process.

The game itself started with a dash, found G. W. leading by 11 to 10 at the halfway mark, and ended in a blaze of glory with four free tosses and one field goal scored in the last 55 seconds of play. Patterson, as G. W. center, tapped the first toss-up of the ball and a short dribble and two passes found the ball in the G. W. basket without an opponent touching it. The goal was not allowed as a technical foul was called on the dribbler. C. U. then got a lead of three points, but was quickly tied by G. W. and the end of first half found them practically on even terms.

Speed and offensive were substituted by both teams in the last period in place of defensive playing before intermission. This set the spectators wild and ushers warned them to hold on to their seats, to keep from jumping over the rail. G. W. had a lead of 18 to 11 when C. U. took a spurt and made it 18 to 16. At this point but five minutes remained to play and the fast pace had its effects on the players. The George Washington team was strengthened with Heist as forward, Wilson as center and Giblin as guard.

Again the game was "thrown in at high" and 22 to 19 represented G. W.'s lead when Giblin and Blyth got working together at short range. Both were quickly banished from the game and a double foul penalty declared on each. O'Brien shooting for C. U. caged both free tosses bringing the score to 22 to 21, and put a tight situation up to Almon. "Shorty" was equal to the task and neatly shot both of his tries which were greatly needed as but 55 seconds remained. On the next play, quick passing to the unguarded Heist resulted in a field goal by him and the final tally of the 26 to 21 score.

Groesbeck Plays Best Game. Almon was the star of the evening with 12 foul goals and 3 goals from the floor, for a total of 18 points. Capt. Groesbeck of G. W. played the cleanest game, of any in which he has participated this season, and it was the best exhibition of his career. O'Brien, C. U.'s ace, was closely guarded and could not score a field goal until the last eight minutes of play. Glascott, right guard of C. U., was the fastest performer of the visitors.

The summary:
G. W. U. Position C. U.
Almon.....L. F.....O'Brien
Giacomo.....R. F.....Bligh
Patterson.....C. G.....Cosby
Groesbeck [Capt.].....L. G.....Greer

Tickets For Freshman Prom, Feb. 9, On Sale

The largest University social event of the college year, the Freshman Prom, will take place on February 9 at the Raleigh Hotel. An orchestra of seven pieces led by Meyer Davis has been engaged to play from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Only 140 tickets will be put on sale. They may be secured from the freshman class presidents for two dollars. Upperclassmen, as well as freshmen are invited.

In order that the names of those present may be given to the newspapers, there is a small detachable coupon on each ticket on which is to be written the name of the purchaser and the person accompanying him. This coupon is not to be detached but the entire ticket is to be presented.

The freshman class presidents will meet next Tuesday at 7 o'clock in the Law School to arrange further details. Perry M. Johnson, chairman of the Council social committee will preside.

WORK ON LAW CAMPAIGN

Committees Meet and Praise Student Who Gives.

Plans for furthering the campaign for money for a new Law School Building were discussed at a meeting of the committees of the Law School Alumni Association and the faculty of the Law School Wednesday afternoon.

Organization of soliciting committees from classes before 1911 was undertaken, and the undergraduates of the Law School who have made "popular" subscriptions of $10 a year for three years were thanked and praised.

William B. King, A. V. Cushman and William C. Van Vleck were the alumni committee, while Dean E. Fraser, Prof. Walter C. Clephane and E. C. Brandenburg represented the faculty.

DOCTORS TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the George Washington Medical Society will be held tomorrow night in the Medical Building, 1325 H street, at 8 o'clock. Dr. O. B. Hunter, Dr. B. M. Randolph, and Dr. C. S. White will make reports on technical subjects, and a smoker will follow.

ROOTING SUPPER TOMORROW

Girl cheerers will dine for ten cents a plate tomorrow night at one of the sorority rooms in order to attend the basketball game in a body. All girls have been invited to join the party.

HEBREW COURSE PROBABLE

Thru the efforts of the Menorah Society, a petition has been presented to the President for the establishment of a course in the Hebrew Language and Literature.

Favorable action by the University authorities is expected, assurances having already been made. Israel Shapiro, Ph. D. (Strassburg), Chief of the Semitics Division of the Congressional Library, has already been appointed professor of Semitic Languages, and he will teach this course.

The course is expected to begin the coming semester, during the second week in February.

Departmental Notes

VETERINARY COLLEGE

Plans are being made for the annual banquet of the Veterinary Medical Association to be held in February.

The junior class held an important class meeting last Wednesday evening. Dean Buckingham attended the meeting of the Virginia Veterinary Medical Association in Richmond, last Thursday.

Dr. S. D. Forbes, '14, is taking a special course this semester.

Classes were excused Wednesday evening to enable the faculty and members to attend the smoker given by the sophomore class.

The resignation of Dr. Adolph Eichord as Chief of Pathological Division, Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, has been announced. He resigns to take directorship of Lederle laboratories, Pearl River, N. Y. Since his entry into the service of the B. A. I. in 1900 he has rapidly risen until he has reached the high position he recently resigned.

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE

Prof. DeWitt C. Croissant will deliver an address on Historical and Philological Phases of Simplified Spelling, before the Modern Language Club of Princeton University at Princeton tomorrow.

Detlow Marthinson is publicity agent for the Drama League Players

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Joseph Henry Wilson, Mechanical engineering vice-president of the Engineering Society, has written a book entitled, "A High School Course in Wood Pattern Making," which he hopes will be adopted in the Washington high schools. Mr. Wilson is at present instructor in pattern making at the new Central High School.

Prentiss D. Sale, C. E. '16, has recently been designing a new building to be used as a storehouse at the Bureau of Standards. He has used steel trusses in the roof and Teels at home in the design, thanks to the efforts of Prof. Dunston and others.

Those who are registered in M. E. should go out and see the equipment in the Mech. Lab. if they have not already done so. The new small high speed steam engine with throttling governor is being installed and will soon be used in tests.

MEDICAL SCHOOL

Dr. A. J. Molzahn, '11, is now resident physician at the George Washington University Hospital.

Henry W. Leetch, '18, has been awarded a scholarship at the school for research on tuberculosis at Saranac, N. Y.

In the Journal of the A. M. A. for December 30 there is the following: "Marriages: Robert Ralph Walton, M. D. Spokane, Washington, to Miss Mabel Monson of Elk River, Idaho, at Spokane, December 1." Dr. Walton graduated from the Medical School in 1915.

Two examinations were held during the past week. The juniors were examined in tropical medicine on Tuesday, and the seniors in pediatrics on Wednesday.
